CHEEKWOOD ESTATE & GARDENS
September 30, 2017

Austin and Andy met in 2012 at a Kenny Chesney and Tim McGraw concert in Washington, D.C. “Mutual friends convinced me to join the group,” Austin says. “Thank goodness I caved.” Back in Nashville, while planning their Cheekwood wedding, Austin says that getting swept up in the details did cause stress. Couples can “get overwhelmed with decisions,” she says. But, she adds, “in those moments, remember that this whole day is a celebration because you found the person you want to ‘do’ life with—and what a miracle that is!”

"My favorite memory is when our officiant, Ralph Griggs, asked if Andy and I saw how many people were there to support us and then told us to look behind us to take it all in."
